Grade Captions may be edited for length or content. Don't write a novel, it just won't fit in the yearbook. Make sure that your writing is legible, so we don't have to guess. Any inappropriate, offensive or mean spirited remarks will be deleted without hesitation.

(Mr. Darling will not track you down to change something that can't go in the book, I'll just cut chunks away until it's acceptable. This includes any (even very vague) references to drugs or alcohol, anti-school/teacher sentiments, things that are mean to other people, acronyms that include swears, etc. I err on the extreme side of caution, so if I don't get what you're saying, I'll likely cut it. If there is something that is important to you that you think you have to explain, come see me. Have fun!)
